

Harry Landis

For what we consider to be the best hydram design available today, we endorse, highly recommend and now offer for sale:

Landis Hydraulic Ram Homestead Water Pump for Sale

We worked with Harry Landis for many years on the design of the Landis Hydram. Given his loss, we are happy to answer any questions that you may have regarding the Landis Hydram or about specific site installation issues.

 6 March 2018 - We are now manufacturing and selling the Landis Hydram directly from our Rogue River Oregon shop. Please contact us at Support@BorstEngineeringConstruction.com for additional information.

 17 December 2015 – It is with deep sadness and regret that we have to announce that our good friend and affiliate Harry Landis died in an ultra-light airplane accident on 1 November 2015 while in Guatemala at our Finca Ixobel hydram testing site. Additional information and a video of the accident may be found here. The performance calculator and associated instructions for Harry's specific hydram may be found here and here.
